WANTED
Dead or Alive
Copyright and its gang:

★ DRM
★ DMCA
★ Notice
★ Takedown

Reward: £1000

Hackers wanted. The Centre for Copyright and New Business Models in the Creative Economy is hosting a hackathon. We are looking for a few good data mining and visualisation gunslingers to help us get a handle on copyright's effect on business, innovation and society. What does a corpus of over 500 academic papers really tell us about file sharing? How much do users value DRM-free products on platforms like Kickstarter? Is digital streaming helping or hurting the creative industries?

Join us to confront these questions while pushing the boundaries of what's possible in data mining, semantic analysis and visualisation. More than £1000 available in prizes. Plus refreshments and other benefits. For free registration and to find out more, see: CREATe.ac.uk/hacks/

HACKATHON EVENT
13th & 14th May 2016
thewhiskybond.co.uk

University of Glasgow | School of Law

CREATe